About eStatements

If you're like most of us... you like helping to protect the environment. You know, things that are green. And having our information available when you need it. With easy access... and our information has to be fully secure. eStatements... well they're everything we like. And they're free. Who doesn't like free. Sometimes called electronic statements... these statements are simply an electronic version of the paper statements you receive through the mail. Only these are delivered online. they're definitely green... helping to reduce paper and green house emissions. They're fast. You'll receive your statements sooner... eliminating delays caused by postal mail delivery. They're simple. Reducing clutter from all those those paper statements laying around. And they're very secure. In fact... because most identity theft occurs through the mail and improperly discarded paper... They're recommended by experts to better protect your information. And they're free. eStatements. Everything you like.
